THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. Mann wish to return many thanks to their friends, in Jonesboro', for kind and valuable presents received during the holidays. As "It is more blessed to give than to receive," how happy may those donors must be! We earnestly wish that

Those who give, may be happy ever,

Feeling no power for lasting given,

God will bless the cheerful giver,

Oh! my how his home is high in Heaven!

M.

Hand Mangled.

We regret to learn that Mr. T. J. Carson, a workman in the shop of Messrs. Willard, Allen & Co., of Maryville, Blount county, Tenn., had his left hand badly mangled by a buzz saw, in the shop at that place yesterday last. Mr. Carson was at work, and the company will doubtless feel his loss.

Are you aware that the premonitory signs of Consumption are Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Pains in the Side and Chest, Difficulties of Breathing &c. If you permit these symptoms to run on, they will be fatal. Now if you want to cure these diseases, use Allen's Lung Balsam without delay.

The House We Live In."

Dr. Wheeler has favored us with a medical work bearing the above title. Dr. J. D. Attilix, of Knoxville, agent for the book in East Tennessee, also called on us. We are not a "medicine man," and hence may not be able to appreciate the value of the book before us. It is neatly bound in sheep, and is printed on an excellent quality of paper; and for the publication of the work the author—Drs. P. and S. P. Sedgwick—say they are alone responsible.

We have examined it somewhat—not very minutely—and have concluded to study over the principles advanced. If they meet our idea of efficiency in effecting cures, we shall give it a further and more extended notice. The medical fraternity and others can purchase the book from Dr. Attilix, and do likewise. It treats of many diseases which are quite prevalent in East Tennessee, and may be the means of accomplishing much good.

House Burnt Down.

We learn that a house belonging to a colored man, named Henson, was entirely destroyed by fire a few evenings since, with all its contents. No one was at home when the fire occurred. He lost nearly everything himself and family possessed.

Store-House and Goods Burned.

We are informed that the Store-house belonging to Hon. Elijah Smalley, of this place, situated in Dixie River Cove, Carter county, Tenn., was, on Friday night last, entirely consumed by fire, including a stock of new goods just laid in. No one was at the store at the time of the occurrence, and hence nothing was saved. We learn there was insurance on the property. Fortunately, Mr. Smalley's books are not in the store at the time of the fire. Loss $5000. It is believed that the store was first robbed and then set on fire.

Re-Elected.

At the recent municipal election held in Knoxville, J. S. Vandiver was re-elected Mayor by a majority of 261 over both his opponents.

See advertisement of Dr. Berry's Dispensary, located back of the MILLION-MARSHALL GUIDE, a full column.

Spread the Truth.

Some medical men insist that it is undignified to advertise a remedy, however valuable it may be. Quer: reasoning this. Is it not better that the article which the world needs should be in a corner—the best gifts and blessings may be too widely diffused—that the means of protecting and restoring health should be a close monopoly, and not accessible to all? This argument is hot, & it is well known that, had it been carried out, it would have been a curse to the medical profession, and that those spontaneous remedies which had never been known beyond the receptaculum of the faculty, who would have been compelled to keep the secret of their preparation, would have been kept a complete secret.

There is the highest authority for saying that light should not be undignified. The sun is the greatest blessing that God has given to man, and yet it is not undignified to say that the sun is a blessing.

Personal.

Hon. N. A. Patterson paid us a flying visit this week. He is looking well, and is in his usual mood of good humor. We are glad to hear (privately) that he will soon launch his bark in the blissful ocean of congenial happiness. Should this prove true, we trust he will have a smooth sea, fair winds, and a safe anchor finally where boats of his tonnage never spring streak!

Our Column of Fun.

For some weeks we have been forced to leave our weekly Column of Fun, which has occasioned much regret with many of our readers.

One subscriber writing from Blacksburg, Va., says, in a postscript: "I must tell you a joke. My wife is strongly opposed to you in politics, but it makes no difference how many papers come in my mail with the FLAG, she always goes for it" with great eagerness. But what has become of your column of fun lately? Let us have it again by all means!"

The wife of a distinguished statesman says in a recent letter: "For the past twelve months the FLAG has been steadily improving, both in original and selected reading, as well as the mechanical execution of the paper. Your domestic department is always interesting. We all miss your column of fun. Why have you discontinued it?" The Clerk and Master at Blountsville says: "Please give me the column of fun again—by all means." "Let us laugh and grow fat!" Many other letters contain similar requests. Next week, therefore, we will again publish the Column of Fun, with side-splitting anecdotes, besides making other improvements on the Flag.

It is well known that a cough first appears.

It is immediately by using Allen's Lung Balsam, L. B. PHILLIPS.

It should keep it on hand in case of Cough.
